In accordance with Regulation 39A of the Regulations, the following review is limited in scope and only relates to material changes and developments in the Company's affairs during the report period and it is prepared under the assumption that the reader also has access to the Board of Directors' report for December 31, 2022, as published on March 28, 2023 (reference number: 2023-01-032883). The above reference is cited as inclusion by way of reference ("2022 Periodic Report"). At the same time, in some cases, for the purpose of providing an overall picture, the Company has included a more detailed description than is actually required, which incorporates information which, in its opinion, is not necessary material.

1.2. Description of the Company and its Business Environment

The company deals in the design, development, manufacturing, marketing, sales and support of programmable logic controllers (PLC) (hereinafter: the "Controllers"). Controllers are computer-based electronic products (hardware and software) used to control and monitor machines which perform automated operations, such as manufacturing systems and other automated installations in various sectors. The company has expanded its product line and has also started marketing and selling propulsion controllers (VFD and Servo systems) designed to interface in an integrative and simple manner with the Controllers of the company. During 2021 the company launched a new integrative platform for cloud services (SaaS). The platform is designed to allow any customer to connect the controllers of the Company to an environment based on a cloud computing infrastructure, transfer data securely and create business dashboards (BI). In this new service, the emphasis is also on the added value which is reflected in the simplicity and ease of application and full integration with the remainder of the products of the company,

This activity is carried out by the Company as well as through Unitronics Inc., a wholly owned subsidiary incorporated in the US and Unitronics GMBH, a wholly owned subsidiary incorporated in Germany.

The Company's PLCs and services are marketed and sold through the Company's internal sales and marketing system via subsidiaries in the United States and Germany, as well as through a network of distributors that includes approximately 190 distributors, of which approximately 110 are in the US and North America and the remainder in approximately seventy countries (including Israel) throughout Europe, Asia, South and Central America and Africa.

The Company mainly operates from office and industrial buildings located at Airport City near the David Ben Gurion Airport. For further details, see Section 1.12 in Chapter A of the Company's 2022 Periodic Report.

1.3. Material Events during the Report Period and in the Period until its Publication

1.3.1. Consequences of a global shortage of electronic components

The Company is exposed to the effects and risks associated with the global shortage of electronic components. Since the end of 2020 there has been a worldwide shortage of electronic components which is affecting the entire electronics industry. To the best knowledge of the Company, the shortage of electronic components is due to several reasons, including: a decrease in supply due to the Corona crisis, during which many workers stayed at home thereby impairing the production lines; Increased demand for electronic component-based products during the Corona crisis such as: smartphones, computers, monitors, routers and other electronic component-based products; as well as an increase in demand in the automotive industry, which began to stock up on a large amount of electronic chips, which was reflected in large-scale chip orders.

Following the increase in demand concurrent with the decrease in supply, the delivery times for electronic components have become very long, occasionally reaching a year and even longer. The Company estimates that despite the noticeable relief in the availability of components as of the date of the report, the current situation is expected to continue in the forthcoming months, wherein as of the date of publication of this report, there is no clear forecast with regard to the end or the easing of the global shortage of electronic components.

The Company anticipates that the lengthening of the delivery times of the electronic components may extend the delivery dates of the orders of the customers of the Company which may cause a delay in the receipt of revenue therefrom. However, the Company does not anticipate a material cancellation of orders from the customers of the Company due to the extension of delivery times.

Furthermore, due to the consequences of the global shortage of electronic components on the ability of the Company to supply part of the products of the Company to its customers, the Board of Directors of the Company decided to currently include in this report the following data in respect of the backlog in the orders of the Company:

Backlog of orders as of June 30, 2023	Backlog of orders as of June 30, 2022	Backlog of orders as of December 31, 2022
88,583	64,656	84,784

1.3.2. The impact of inflation and the increase in interest rates

Further to the aforesaid in section 1.21 (risk factors) of Chapter A (Description of the Business of the Company) in the 2022 Periodic Report, as of the date of the report, the Company is monitoring and examining the consequences that may arise in the market as a result of the increase in the consumer price index and the interest rate.

In this regard, starting in 2021 there has been an increase in inflation rates in Israel and in the world. In 2021, the consumer price index in Israel increased by approximately 2.8% (compared to a decrease of 0.7% in the previous year), and in 2022 the trend strengthened and an increase in the index was recorded at a rate of 5.3%. Since the beginning of the year, the consumer price index has registered another increase of about 2.2%. Concurrent with the global increase in prices, central banks in the world decided to raise interest rates in order to curb the price increases. Starting in April 2022, the Bank of Israel decided to raise the interest rate in Israel, which as of the date of publication of the report stands at 4.75% compared to 0.1% at the beginning of 2022.

In accordance with the forecast of the Research Division of the Bank of Israel, the inflation rate in the next four quarters ending in the second quarter of 2024 is forecasted to be 3% and in 2024 the inflation rate is forecasted to be 2.4%. Furthermore, in accordance with the forecast, the monetary interest rate is expected to be 4.75% or 5% on average in the second quarter of 2024.

Concurrent therewith, the Company estimates that the effect of the continued increase in the consumer price index as well as the increase in interest rates are not expected to directly affect the results of its operations in light of the liabilities and cost structure of the Company.

The Company's assessments of the impact of the inflation and the increase in the interest rate as well as the global shortage of electronic components and the impact of these factors on the operations of the Company constitute forward-looking information, as defined in the Securities Law, 1968, which is based, inter alia, on the Company's estimates as of the date of publication of this report with respect to factors outside its control. The Company's assessments are based on information that is currently held by the Company, on publications on this subject and on relevant government directives, and which are not certain to materialize, in whole or in part, and which may materialize substantially differently, due to factors outside the Company's control.

The condensed interim financial statements are to be reviewed in conjunction with the annual financial statements of the Company as of December 31, 2022 and the accompanying notes (hereinafter - the "Consolidated Annual Financial Statements"). Note 3 –Financial instruments

A. Classification of financial instruments in accordance with fair value hierarchy

The financial instruments presented in the Statement of Financial Position at fair value or disclosed at their fair value are classified according to groups with similar characteristics to the fair value hierarchy determined in accordance with the source of the data used to determine the fair value:

Level 1: Quoted prices (without adjustments) in an active market of identical assets and liabilities.

Level 2: Non-quoted prices included in Level 1 which can be forecasted directly or indirectly

Level 3: Data that is not based on market information which can be forecasted (assessment techniques without the use of market data which can be forecasted)

Academic agreements in foreign currency are measured in accordance with level 2.

Liability for options is measured in accordance with level 3.

Unitronics (1989) (R"G) Ltd.

Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

Valuation techniques regarding fair value measurements classified to Level 3 - Liabilities in respect of share options

The fair value of the liability for option warrants, for which no quoted market price exists, is determined throughout the reporting period on the basis of the economic model used in an evaluation made by an external appraiser. Further to the foregoing in Note 26 D of the consolidated annual financial statements, entitlement to additional Company shares held by FIMI shall depend on the total consideration FIMI will receive from the sale of its holdings of the shares of the Company and the Utron shares, Given the number of variables affecting the value of the options, the "Monte Carlo" model is used.

The fair value of the price adjustment mechanism is the expected future value of the additional shares, which will be allotted to FIMI (to the extent they are allotted), discounted on the date of the calculation, where the number of shares that will be allotted to FIMI will be derived from the consideration FIMI will receive upon the sale/s of all the holdings of shares of the Company and the Utron shares ("FIMI shares").

The future value of FIMI shares was estimated using the Monte Carlo model and was divided into two categories:

1. The branches where the aggregate value of the shares acquired is lower than 250% of FIMI'S purchase price for which FIMI is entitled to the allotment of additional shares.
2. The branches in which the aggregate value of the shares acquired is higher than 250% of FIMI'S purchase price for which FIMI is not entitled to the allotment of additional shares.

The future value of the additional shares was calculated by multiplying (a) the total shares that FIMI will receive by (b) the future value of the share and by (c) the probable future value of the share.

The fair value of the additional shares was calculated by discounting the future value by zero risk interest on the date of the calculation.

B. Adjustment between fair value measurements classified at level 3 in the fair value hierarchy of financial instruments (continued)

The balance of the liabilities in respect of the option warrants are in accordance with the valuation performed by an external appraiser, based on the "Monte Carlo" model. The underlying assumptions in the calculation of the valuation:

Unitronics base asset NIS 23.87 NIS, Utron base asset NIS 3.05, Unitronics standard deviation 35.26%, Utron standard deviation 49.38%, risk-free interest rate 4.42%, life cycle 9 month.

Notes to the Condensed Consolidated Interim Financial Statements

Note 5 – Material events during and after the reporting period

A. Global shortage of electronic components

The Company is exposed to the effects and risks associated with the global shortage of electronic components. Since the end of 2020 there has been a worldwide shortage of electronic components which is affecting the entire electronics industry. To the best knowledge of the Company, the shortage of electronic components is due to several reasons, including: a decrease in supply due to the Corona crisis, during which many workers stayed at home thereby impairing the production lines; Increased demand for electronic component-based products during the Corona crisis such as: smartphones, computers, monitors, routers and other electronic component-based products; as well as an increase in demand in the automotive industry, which began to stock up on a large amount of electronic chips, which was reflected in large-scale chip orders.

Following the increase in demand concurrent with the decrease in supply, the delivery times for electronic components have become very long, occasionally reaching a year and even longer. The Company estimates that despite the noticeable relief in the availability of components as of the date of the report, the current situation is expected to continue in the forthcoming months, wherein as of the date of publication of this report, there is no clear forecast with regard to the end or the easing of the global shortage of electronic components.

The Company anticipates that the lengthening of the delivery times of the electronic components may extend the delivery dates of the orders of the customers of the Company which may cause a delay in the receipt of revenue therefrom. However, the Company does not anticipate a material cancellation of orders from the customers of the Company due to the extension of delivery times.

- B. During the reporting period, the Company received from a foreign insurance company a letter of release from indemnity agreements, which were signed in order to set up a framework of surety bonds to secure the obligations of Utron Systems Inc., a related company of the Utron group. The framework guaranteed by the Company close to the date of receiving the letter of release amounted to approximately USD 25 million. The consideration for the removal of the indemnity agreements amounted to approximately NIS 462 thousand.
- C. During the reporting period, confirmation was received from a banking corporation of the cancellation of the obligations of the Company to the banking corporation to comply with financial covenants and to obtain the consent of the banking corporation to distribute a dividend to the shareholders.
- D. On May 15, 2023, the general meeting of the shareholders of the Company (hereinafter - the "Meeting") approved entering into a rental agreement that supersedes the current rental agreement with a company controlled by Mr. Haim Shani (the active Chairman of the Board of Directors of the Company and the joint controlling shareholder thereof with the Fimi Foundation) and Ms. Bareket Shani, the wife of Mr. Shani, for a period of three years from the date of the approval of the meeting. In accordance with the engagement approved at the meeting, the Company will be entitled to reduce the rented or re-increase it again up to a total of 1,600 square meters (provided that it is not below the total of 1,022 square meters, the area leased in the current agreement), and increase the number of parking spaces available thereto it in the rented space up to 60 spaces and re-reduce it again (provided that it is not less than 30 parking spaces, the number specified in the current agreement) without changing the price per square meter/per parking or any other term of the rental terms, wherein the reduction or the re-increase will be at the sole discretion of the management in accordance with the needs of the Company.
